Congressman Ditter Addresses Narberth Volunteers and Visitors

DANCE FOLLOWS DINNER

Narberth's active firemen, their officers and visiting officials from a number of other volunteer companies this Thursday evening are sitting down to an excellent dinner prepared by the Mulieres, ladies' auxiliary, who annually give this dinner to the local blaze fighters.

Following the banquet Montgomery County's Congressman, the Hon. J. William Ditter, is to address the gathering, and other features include drawing by the active firemen for several prizes contributed by Narberth merchants and listening to the Pennsylvania Railroad's Keystone Quartette.

At 9 o'clock the doors are to be thrown open to wives and guests of members and dancing is to be enjoyed until 12.

Tristan B. duMarias, Narberth company president, is to preside, while John H. Jefferies, Jr., General Wayne Commissioner, is acting as toastmaster.

Invited guests besides Fire Chief Charles V. Noel and his active volunteers include Dr. A. C. Barnes, Merion, honorary official of the company; Thomas C. Trotter, Lindley Trotter and John Ketcham, the three living members of the original Narberth company; Carl Newborg, Albert Needham and Charles Young, retired members; George B. Suplee, life member; Burgess John R. Hall, borough councilmen and officials.

Out-of-town guests include the Hon. Fred C. Peters, president of the Board of County Commissioners; the Hon. Peter C. Hess, township treasurer and assistant chief of the Cynwyd Fire Company; Captain Charles P. Smith, superintendent of Lower Merion's police.

Many Activities Ahead on Juniors' Calendar

Fashion Show Meeting April 8, With Election of Officers 22nd

A variety of activities crowds the calendar for members of the Women's Junior Club of Narberth during the coming weeks, and it looks as if spring housecleaning and gardening will be set aside at least another month by the president and her committee heads.

Details for the fashion show meeting April 8 were outlined Monday night when board members met with the president, Mrs. S. V. Smith. An open meeting for members and friends is planned for that night at the community clubrooms, with Mrs. S. H. Brown as hostess-chairman. Club members who will serve as models include Mrs. Joseph Miller, Junior Ad-

Many Small Blazes Keep Firemen Busy

Narberth, Cynwyd and West Manayunk Answer 13 Alarms in 6 Days

Prevalence of grass and tree fires in Lower Merion and Narberth have caused Anthony McGrann, township fire marshal, again to warn the public against throwing away lighted cigarettes and cigars and leaving rubbish blazes unwatched.

During six days, from last Friday to Wednesday evening, the three Eastern Main Line fire companies were called upon to put out thirteen small fires.

The Narberth Fire Company answered the most alarms—seven—with three of them coming during one and one-half hours during Monday afternoon.

Cynwyd's Union Fire Association was called out four times and the West Manayunk Fire Company extinguished two fires.

Fire calls for the week were:

Narberth Fire Company:

March 26, 10.45 A. M. Awning fire communicating to house at 253 Iona avenue, Narberth. Damage, $10.

March 28, 10.28 A. M. Field fire, Woodbine and Bryn Mawr avenue, Penn Valley.

March 29, 1.30 P. M. Grass fire on Murdoch property, Righters Mill road, Penn Valley; 2.30 P. M., grass fire near house at Merion and South Narberth avenues, Narberth; 3.30 P. M., grass fire at Wynnewood and

Main Line Baseball League Will Open Season May 22

Opening day for the Main Line Baseball League season will be May 22, it was decided Wednesday night as the circuit moguls met at the Arcadia Restaurant, Narberth.

Two new teams added to the league are Upper Darby and Paoli. The six teams previously decided upon are Narberth's defending champions, Gladwyne, Coatesville, Brookline, Media A. A. and Royersford.

Instead of the first-half and second-half winners meeting in a playoff for the title, the officials have this year decided to use the O'Shaugnessy system of having the four highest teams engage in a tournament at the end of the season.

Penn Wynne Leads Narberth Two-to-One in Playoff Tilt

Wednesday was a bad night for Narberth's basketball hopes.

Penn Wynne took the third encounter from the boroughites in the Main Line League playoff series, 37-24, at Haverford College and now leads two games to one in the tourney. Monday Narberth had tied the count by taking a 41-35 decision. The fourth game of a possible five will be played this Monday.

Narberth's Bees also took a trimming in the prelim from the Artisans, 31-19, with the winners to meet the Wayne Raiders for the second-half "B" league championship.

In the main game, Al Bonniwell, Penn Wynne captain, scored 17 points, while Russ Hermann tallied 10 for the losers.

1936 Borough Postoffice Receipts $201,343; Stamp Sales Double 1924

Total receipts at the Narberth postoffice during 1936 were $201,343.37—the highest figure in the history of the borough's postal service.

The departmental amounts, compiled by J. Wallace Goodwin, assistant postmaster, and released this week by Joseph L. Kelley, borough postmaster, show that postal stamp receipts (on which the postoffice's second class rating is fixed) for 1936 were $32,433.96 or nearly double the sum of $16,741.72 in 1924, the first year in which a record is available. About 20 per cent recovery since 1933 is indicated.

During the year money orders totalling $110,062.91 were handled; $21,787.50 in government bonds were sold; and $37,059 were received from postal savings depositors.

While much of the increase may be traced to improved business conditions, increased territory is also a factor. The local carriers now deliver mail to residences in a large section of Penn Valley, and some adjacent streets of Merion as well as to all borough homes. The population served is in excess of 10,000.

Also during the year the postoffice employes' delivered the Veterans Bonus in this area of which 1661 bonds totalling $83,050 have been certified for payment in Narberth.

Personnel at the postoffice includes sixteen men:

Joseph L. Kelley, postmaster, and J. Wallace Goodwin, assistant postmaster.

Clarence Long, Russell S. Basler and George W. Morton, clerks.

Richard R. Blessing, Raymond A. Maxwell, Lester E. Peters, Benjamin F. Yowell, David C. Casey and Leon W. Piercy, carriers.

Matthew F. Callahan, substitute clerk and Charles F. McClain and Lewis H. Pugh, substitute carriers.

Thomas W. Casey, mail messenger and special delivery messenger.

Wales W. Trent, janitor.

A truck is maintained for collections of mail and for parcel post deliveries.

A survey is now being made in Narberth to determine the necessity for a site and construction of a new postoffice. The survey was ordered by William Purdum, fourth assistant postmaster general at Washington following a visit to him two months ago of Chester P. Cook, John Gilroy and Anton E. Wohlert, Narberth residents, who urged that a Federal building be erected in the borough.

Lose Something? Maybe It's Among "Founds" at P. O.

If you lost something recently it may be at the Narberth postoffice. Here's a partial list of articles found in the lobby and unclaimed:

Tap dancer's outfit.
Dresses.
Percolator handles.
Single gloves (several).
Mayonnaise jars.
Ball of twine.
Pair of nose glasses in case.
Wallet.
Pillow.
Note books.
Pocketbooks.

"Gondoliers" Opens Tonight in Cynwyd

Choral Presents Colorful Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta Fri. and Sat.

In the traditional and romantic manner of the Venetian boatman, the Bala-Cynwyd "Gondoliers" will sing their way through Gilbert and Sullivan's colorful operetta by that name at the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd tonight and tomorrow night.

The plot of the operetta is concerned with two happily married young Gondoliers who suddenly learn that one of them is a King, married in his extreme youth to a titled infant who is now in love with her father's court attendant.

The music is the most beautiful of any written by Sullivan and in the plot Gilbert has cleverly combined satire, wit and humor to present a most ridiculous and improbable situation.

The principal leads will be taken by Warren Holland, Gladys Darwin, Andrew Canale, Ruth Eldredge, Albert Lonzer, Phyllis Matthews, James Tilbury, Albert Munson, Kay Yunger and Emily Dungan Moore.

This is the most difficult production the Choral has undertaken and the members have rehearsed enthusiasti-

Those interested in attending this meeting are requested to notify the president of the Merion Branch, Mrs. J. Alden Tifft, Merion 415.

"Al" will arrive this Friday to spend spring vacation with his father.

Less Relief Cases in Township

While Narberth's families on relief remained the same last week at six, Lower Merion's cases showed a decrease of two, dropping from sixty to fifty-eight.

Value of Friendship Told Rotary At Club's Eleventh Birthday Party

Birthday messages from sixteen speakers were received by the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday at the Overbrook Golf Club on the occasion of the service organization's eleventh anniversary.

The principal address was given by Dr. George Emerson Barnes, pastor of the Overbrook Presbyterian Church, who, eleven years ago as a special representative of the Philadelphia Rotary Club, helped to form the local unit. He said:

"If I were preaching a sermon I'd choose a text, so I might as well do the same thing now. 'Consider the rock from whence you are hewed.'

"That means adhering to the two things which underlie the whole Rotary movement—a conviction that friendship is the most valuable asset in life, and a conviction that service is a practicable method of life. Rotary is more than just a group of luncheon clubs."

The turnout of 50 persons numbered eight past presidents of the group, six heads of neighboring clubs, a representative of the district governor, and just plain visiting Rotarians, including one from Madison, Wis.

Rally Dinner Tuesday Will Open Campaign

Civic Leaders to Address Workers at Convention Hall

United Campaign's Main Line chairman, Rodney K. Merrick, of Bryn Mawr, today announced that campaign headquarters are now open at 12 Cricket avenue, Ardmore.

In announcing the names of those who will assist him in the coming appeal Mr. Merrick called attention to the opening rally dinner to be held in Convention Hall on Tuesday evening at 6.30, where thousands of team captains and volunteer solicitors are expected to assemble to hear addresses by campaign and civic leaders.

The United Campaign in behalf of the Community Fund of Philadelphia and Vicinity and the Federation of Jewish Charities seeks $4,500,000 as the required minimum for the 1937 maintenance of the 141 health and humanitarian agencies which are members of the two federations.

Save Your Sympathy for This Weeping Mother

A frail and weeping woman has been playing on both heart- and purse-strings of Narberth and Bala-Cynwyd residents for several weeks.

Always calling at night "for work," her story is that she is the widowed mother of two (sometimes four) children who will be put out of their West Philadelphia home if she cannot raise a certain sum by morning.

Investigation by the Narberth Voluntary Emergency Relief proved that the address given by the woman is a house owned by an elderly dentist who has had the place closed for some time, and the next door neighbor (who frequently has received shipments of clothing and food addressed to the mendicant) never heard of the woman.

Reports indicate she avoids governmental and charitable agencies, makes up to $10 a night.

Long Illness Fatal to Dr. E. S. Deubler, Ayrshire Authority

Rotarian and School Board Member Dies Tuesday at Penn Valley Home

SERVICE TODAY AT 2.30

Dr. Ezra Strickland Deubler, 58, of Pennhurst Farms, State and Haggysford roads, Penn Valley, died at his home Tuesday after a five months' illness.

Dr. Deubler, a well-known dairyman and veterinarian, had been manager of Percival Robert's Pennhurst Farms for a number of years.

A member of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at the time of his death, he served as president of the organization from July, 1927, to June, 1928.

Dr. Deubler was also member of the Lower Merion School Board.

He is survived by his wife, Anna Louise Deubler, and four children. They are Miss Emily Deubler, of Penn Valley; Miss Henrietta Deubler, of Ludlowville, N. Y.; Leonard Pearson Deubler, of Penn Valley, and Dr. James Deubler, of Harrisburg.

Funeral services will be held at his late residence today at 2.30 P. M. Interment is private.

Recognized as an authority on the subject of breeding and managing dairy cattle, Dr. Deubler's services as a writer and speaker on these subjects were much in demand.

He was an aggressive leader in popularizing the herd test, in the use of proven lines of breeding and in the eradication of disease.

For more than twenty-five years he was actively identified with the Ayrshire breed and for most of that time served as the manager of the noted Pennhurst herd.

Dr. Deubler began his experiences with Ayrshires on the home farm in Bradford County, where his father, the late James Deubler, was a pioneer breeder. Later Dr. Deubler, with his brothers, Dr. Ernest C. and David, conducted the herd under the name of James Deubler's Sons.

Cubs and Dads Give Hobby Show Tonight

Annual Event at 7.30 o'Clock in Legion Room is Open to Public

This Friday evening at 7.30 the Narberth Cub Pack will open its second annual hobby show at the American Legion Room in the borough Community Building. Since the first of the year the boys have been perfecting their collections of everything from match covers to stamps, working with their dads in making useful and ornamental articles and doing a lot of unusual things that only the mind of a boy would think of. All of this will culminate when the doors are opened and parents, brothers and sisters troop in to inspect and admire.

There will be two added attractions. District Cubbing Commissioner William H. Clark, of Brookline, will bring his collection of outstanding work done during the past three years by the Ardmore Pack.

The second feature will be of special interest to parents whose boys will soon be nine years old. It is a

What About the Tunnel?

Some weeks ago Joseph L. Kelley, Narberth's Democratic postmaster, told the borough business men and later the Borough Council that he felt sure a WPA grant could be obtained to construct a vehicular tunnel under the railroad at Essex avenue providing the borough and railroad would bear a smaller cost of the project.

The business men were enthusiastic about the proposed underpass which would connect the north and south sides of Narberth and relieve traffic congestion in the vicinity of the railroad station. Councilmen as a body appeared lukewarm as is oft the wont of legislative bodies.

However, since then, a number of Republicans including public officials as well as Democrats have expressed themselves privately as believing the tunnel would be the greatest improvement Narberth could have at this time.

But unless some of these statements are made publicly and unless some action is started soon, the tunnel is likely to be passed over in favor of other projects elsewhere in the County and State.

Does Narberth want the underpass enough to speak up for it?

Our Town would like to receive some expressions of opinion.

As Medicos See Legislation

Anent the flood of bills which are passing through the hopper at Harrisburg, there are two which are of especial interest because they deal with matters of health.

One has the approval of the Montgomery County Medical Society while the other is condemned by the medical men.

A bill recently introduced in the State Legislature by Representative Herbert B. Cohen, for a "group hospital service plan," has been given the approval of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania.

This bill would authorize the setting up of privately operated non-profit groups, through which various hospitals could offer their facilities to stricken workers under a subscription plan.

Subscribers under such a plan would pay ten dollars or less annually, in return for which they would be entitled to twenty-one free days of hospital service annually in any of the hospitals cooperating under this plan, and reduced rates if illness made a longer stay necessary.

The subscription does not include the services of the family physician or other physicians' fees but would include occupancy of a room and all other benefits of the usual hospital care exclusive of medical care.

The bill provides that administration of the plan would be under the Department of Insurance. No profits would be allowed and surpluses, if any, would accrue to the benefit of the subscribers of the plan.

The Abington plan, conceded by medical men to be one of the best in operation, has been approved by the Montgomery County Medical Association as it is now operated at the Abington Hospital.

The plan steers a course between the Scylla and Charybdis of the hospital rates out of reach of the average man of limited means and the alleged dangers, according to medical men, of strictly socialized medicine.

The compulsory Health Insurance Bill, designated as House Bill 622, is disapproved by the medical societies. They claim passage of this bill would result in a "devastating effect on the quality of medical service" as in European countries where similar laws have been passed.

It does not provide for unemployables or the unemployed. One must be employed to obtain the benefits.

The program would be administered by State and local bureaus financed by a $100,000,000 fund.

The Society claims this insurance is expensive to the taxpayer, pauperizes the family and uses up capital which could be used for life insurance.

An Ingrate Speaks

To the Editor:

A few friends have implied that I am an ingrate and I almost agree with them. However, I use the past tense. That is the difference.

According to these friends I've committed a great sin—I'm opposed to the New Deal.

They say: "During the depression you were worried. You couldn't pay all your bills and now you have money in the bank. You bought a new car, etc., therefore, you are ungrateful to the administration" to whom, of course, they give the entire credit.

Even if what they claim is true—the New Deal is far too big a price to pay for what I got.

In the first paragraph I said that I have been an ingrate. That's all too true.

In 1932 I voted to cast aside the old order of government under which I had been born and raised and I voted for the "New Deal."

Alas and alack! Because conditions were bad throughout the world, I forgot the forty-five years that I had been privileged to be a citizen of this dear old U. S. A. and the liberties I enjoyed as such.

I forgot that occasionally my forefathers experienced bad times also and that they had pulled in the waistline a little and kept sawing wood.

I forgot why they did this—in order that they would be able to keep that liberty which they cherished enough to emigrate to a strange land thousands of miles from their birthplaces.

Now I want to go on record that I'm not entirely to blame for taking the bait in 1932. Oh, no! I was just fooled into thinking I was voting for the Democratic Party. I did not have the slightest conception of what was to follow, or even worse, of what may yet happen.

How was I to know that the "New Deal" would pay to destroy crops—to not raise hogs, etc?

Nor did I think this party would attempt to pack the Supreme Court if it ruled against it.

If I wasn't afraid of putting something into their heads I might say that next they might attempt the same with the Senate. This, however, would only be necessary if a majority of that august body would acquire enough intestinal fortitude to stand on their own feet.

Above all I did not expect to hear of a so-called "smart" labor leader telling the President of this nation in effect that "We voted for you. Now you stand by us." (I remember seeing a play once called "Bought and Paid For" and I didn't like it even on a stage.)

I didn't expect to see some of the largest industrial plants unlawfully seized by sit-down strikers and to read that the Secretary of Labor said she didn't know if it were legal or not.

I didn't expect that under these conditions of anarchy that the chief executive of this country would remain silent for even a single day.

I didn't expect that talk about "economic royalists," etc., would become a Frankenstein resulting in—What?

No, I was fooled in 1932, but in 1936 they did not change the bait and I didn't bite the second time.

Now I am called an ingrate because I have a few dollars more in my pocket. Yes? Well I am not for sale! What good will it do to strive to accumulate anything without the liberty to enjoy it?

In my opinion America and Liberty are inseparable. Without one the other will perish.

It is easy to criticize I know, and criticism without a remedy isn't of much value. So here are a few suggestions:

Let all serious-minded people of this country whether they live north or south of the Mason and Dixon line or east or west of the Mississippi River, awake and save the Constitution before it is too late.

Let them forget, for a little while, party lines, sectional and religious prejudices, etc., and do something for America.

Let us forget what particular union leader wants to be boss and take unions out of politics.

Let us realize that mob rule and defiance of law and order is the first step towards Communism and loss of liberty for both Capital and Labor.

Let everyone that realizes what is going on in this country, under the guise of benevolence, and its probable consequences speak out in protest and

Boy Scout Notes

Local scouts are especially fortunate in having available at both the Narberth and Cynwyd public libraries a complete set of Merit Badge Books. The entire range of subjects has been made available to these boys who wish to take advantage of study for their scout advancement.

These valuable books were recently donated to the libraries by the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

Scouters are going to take an active part in the United Campaign which will be launched on April 6. The Valley Forge Council alone will distribute 100,000 rotogravure circulars which will depict the work of participating members of the United Campaign.

Miriam Hopkins at Narberth in "Men Are Not Gods"

"Men Are Not Gods," this Friday and Saturday at the Narberth Theatre, is a triangle romance among Miriam Hopkins, a newspaper girl; Sebastian Shaw, a Shakespearean actor, and Gertrude Lawrence, his wife. The supporting cast of the story by Walter Reisch includes Rex Harrison, in love with Miss Hopkins; A. E. Matthews and Val Geilgud.

"Stolen Holiday," Monday and Tuesday, has Kay Francis as an ambitious Paris dress designer in Alison Skipworth's shop. She meets Claude Rains, involved in various financial swindles, and aids him, not knowing of the crookedness of his schemes.

Wednesday (Cash Award Night) will feature "Career Woman," a melodrama in which Claire Trevor is a woman lawyer, beset by romantic and legal difficulties.

A return engagement of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" is scheduled for Thursday only. Written by Clarence Budington Kelland and starring Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur, "Mr. Deeds" is ranked by many authorities as the best motion picture of 1936.

STRAWBRIDGE—DORRANCE

The marriage of Miss Margaret Winifred Dorrance, daughter of Mrs. John T. Dorrance and the late Dr. Dorrance, of Woodcrest, Radnor, to Mr. George Strawbridge, son of Mr. John Strawbridge, Chestnut Hill, took place in St. Martin's Church, Radnor, on Monday afternoon in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Richard H. Gurley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Dorrance, wore a wedding gown of shirred white tulle, fashioned over a foundation of matching satin, with a close-fitting bodice, long sleeves and a high bateau neckline. The skirt, which fitted closely about the hips, flared from there, ending in a long train. Orange blossoms were used to form a girdle at the waistline. A pointed coronet of the flowers held her veil in place, blossoms also being sprinkled over the veil. Her bouquet was lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Miss Dorrance Hill, the flower girl, wore a Kate Greenaway frock of white tulle made with a deep collar which formed a cape, with a wreath of tiny gardenias in her hair. She also carried a bouquet of the same.

Mr. John Strawbridge was best man for his brother, and the ushers included Mr. Richard Benson, Mr. Perry Benson, Mr. Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, Jr., and Mr. Benjamin H. Griswold, 3d.

Appeal to Build Bala Apartment Declined

An appeal by the Philadelphia Realty Investment Company to build a three-story apartment house at Conshohocken State road and Union avenue, Bala, was declined at a meeting of the Lower Merion Board of Adjustment last Thursday night.

The appeal was declined because the ground area on which the building is to be located exceeds by 1.4 per cent the 30 per cent allowed by the zoning ordinance.

The board indicated, however, that if plans are re-drawn to keep the building within the space prescribed by the ordinance, the application for a building permit will be promptly granted.

It was brought out at the hearing that the building is designed at present for fifty-four apartments, with eighteen on each floor. Exterior construction would be of brick.

Application for a special exception by the same concern for a garage in the basement of the apartment building was granted.

The board granted an appeal to Samuel Vadner for a variance in respect to the width of a side yard on property on Dartmouth road, Cynwyd, where he is building a house.

"An American Tragedy" Plays at Hedgerow Theatre Tonight

Hedgerow Theatre will present "An American Tragedy" tonight, with David Metcalf playing the role of Clyde Griffith. Patricia Murray will be seen in the role of the attractive Roberta Alden and Cele McLaughlin as Sondra, the pleasure-loving daughter of the millionaire Finchleys.

Tomorrow night Hedgerow produces Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion," together with the one-acter, "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets."

Next Thursday, Sierra's Spanish comedy, "Wife to a Famous Man," will share honors with Gustav Weid's "Autumn Fires," a delightful genre picture of an old men's home in Sweden.

"Autumn Fires" is a ridiculous and deeply touching tale about seven crochety old men who magnify the details of their humdrum existence in an old men's home in a feeble effort to make the future hold more than memories of the past.

The quietude of this comedy is in contrast to the fireworks of the Latin temperament depicted in "Wife to a Famous Man," where jealousy blows hot and love abides.

Ditter Introduces Bill Suspending Selection Boards

Congressman Condemns Present Navy System for Promotion and Retirement

HITS HUGE EXPENSE

A resolution for the suspension of Selection Boards of the Navy until July 1, 1938, was introduced in the House of Representatives last week by J. William Ditter, Montgomery County Congressman.

It has been the function of this board to pass on promotions and fix the time of retirement of navy officers.

The resolution was prompted by objections to the present system sent to the Congressmen from all branches of the navy.

"As presently operated," Ditter declared, "the system provides for the annual dismissal from the service of a group of officers against whom no charges whatever have been lodged and whose physical and mental abilities qualify them for continued service."

"The men so retired receive an annual retirement pay averaging $2900 for each man, which continues through life even though no further service is rendered the Government."

It is computed that by 1944 more than 1400 officers of the line will have been retired through this system.

According to Ditter, it is an elimination system in which favoritism can easily play an important part. It tends to create "yes men" and results in a "demoralizing autocracy," he contends.

"In spite of the fact that naval officials admit the system needs correction, no move has been made to eradicate the evils," Ditter stated. "Taxpayers' money is used to train midshipmen by the hundreds annually and then, after gaining experience, they are cast adrift at the further expense of the public treasury."

"In my opinion, every effort should be made to provide adequate national defense, but we cannot justify an enormous expenditure of public funds for the maintenance of a system which destroys initiative, self-respect and ambition on the part of many officers and which separates from the service hundreds of trained officers in the prime of life."

Freihofer's New Delivery Plan Shortens Hours for Employes

Freihofer's this week announced a new delivery plan which not only will shorten the hours of the driver-salesman, but also will permit him to talk with customers concerning their individual needs for the day.

The plan, entirely voluntary on Freihofer's part, also means that the firm's bread, rolls and other baked goods will be delivered hours fresher from the oven.

All deliveries will be made during daylight.

The presidents and delegates from seven suburban clubs were guests of the local Juniors last Thursday night at the clubrooms. Many other guests were present to fill the rooms to capacity for the dance recital of the pupils of Marjorie Hoffman. One of the charming features of the entertainment was the singing of Polish songs by Madame Joanna Ridpath, of Narberth.

...."don't you hear enough about telephones at the switchboard all day, without talking telephone when you're off duty? What's the big idea?"

"I am interested in telephone service," I told her, "and I'll tell you why. Being an operator I know how handy a telephone is in so many ways—and how priceless in emergencies. I've put through hundreds of rush calls for doctors, ambulances, police or fire departments. And I can't help thinking how much a telephone means when people need help in a hurry.

Needleworkers RePleat With Joy In Hook-in' Eye-ful of Machines

Replacement of Stolen Electric Stitchers Achieved by Group

Pleasure and enthusiasm ran high at the March meeting of the "Leisure Hour" group of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild, which met March 24 at the Legion rooms. This group of women meet regularly to sew on garments for the needy in order to be able to have an increased contribution to make at the annual ingathering in the fall.

Some time ago the two electric sewing machines which these women had purchased in order to do this sewing were stolen from the Narberth Presbyterian Church, where they had been taken in order to rush through sewing for the Red Cross during the flood disasters. Things looked pretty dark, as electric sewing machines cost a lot of money and many folks were wondering just what would happen to the sewing done by these faithful women.

A tea was given at the home of Mrs. A. G. Follette, 222 Wayne avenue, on March 12, and as a result of this affair two shiny new machines greeted the happy eyes of the women who gathered at the Legion rooms on the 24th.

To Mrs. Follette and her committee, consisting of the following members, Mrs. J. McCutcheon, Mrs. A. G. Compton, Mrs. C. Stoudt, Mrs. H. C. Nold, Mrs. R. L. Beatty, Mrs. A. T. Bowers, Mrs. Clifford Bates, Mrs. Henry Ross and Mrs. A. E. Brown, is extended a word of praise and thanks.

Also the members of the Needlework Guild "Leisure Hour" group wish to thank the fifty-two women who supported the tea and the many others who contributed to the machine fund. The contributions made it possible to pay for the machines with only a very small balance due.

A word of appreciation is likewise extended to Mrs. Mildred Bailey, who sang and played so acceptably at the tea, and to Miss Margaret Squier who so capably accompanied Mrs. Bailey. Miss Jane Nash, who had so graciously agreed to read for the group, was unable to attend because of illness.

Mrs. H. B. Weld New Treas.; Humorous Article is Read

The monthly meeting of the "Leisure Hour" group of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild was held in the American Legion room on March 24.

Many garments for the needy were finished.

Mrs. Louis Shenceman offered her resignation as treasurer of the "Leisure Hour" group, due to the illness of her husband. Mrs. H. B. Weld was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. H. Gross was appointed chairman of membership to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Weld from this office.

Any one wishing to become a contributor to the work of the Needlework Guild in Narberth may do so by contacting Mrs. Gross at 318 North Narberth avenue. To become a member of the Needlework Guild the only requirement is two new garments of any kind a year.

The sewing project of this monthly group is carried on by voluntary gifts and recently a number of members and directors have been entertaining at luncheons for the purpose of raising funds to purchase materials. Among the many interesting reports of luncheons given was one made by Mrs. A. H. Durboraw, a former president of the Narberth Branch. Mrs. Durboraw pictured in a most humorous fashion the many mishaps attending the preparations for her luncheon and then read the following literary contribution composed by Mrs. Helen Lang:

No Red Tape

AHEM! someone "tuck" our sewing machines and left us badly "ruffled" and in a high "tension"; in fact, we're on "needles and pins." Only a "biased" person could do such a "selvage" trick. "Sew," although depressed, we're "bobbin'" up, "darting" in and out, "button-holeing" friends to "shear" our efforts in replacing our equipment. "Kenmore" be said except, "Hook and eye" contact for aid? We're sadly dePLEATED, but it won't be long until we "Singer" praises again in our Needlework Guild. Such experiences make an organization more "binding."

The next meeting of the "Leisure Hour" group will be held at the Legion room on April 28 all day. Every one who is interested and would like to attend and assist in the sewing is welcome. Bring a box luncheon. Coffee and tea will be served.

Dr. Herbert W. Bieber, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Bala-Cynwyd, will conduct the services.

Mrs. Snow, who was 74, died from a stroke early Wednesday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law, Eugene H. Davis, 109 Forest avenue, Narberth. She had lived at the Davis home since the death of her husband in 1929.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Belle S. Davis, and a son, Earl E. Snow, of Lansdowne.

Mrs. Delancey Cameron, of Kenilworth road, Ardmore, has returned from Rochester and Warsaw, N. Y., where she attended the funeral of her cousin, Miss Annabel Humphries.

Cooperatives Will Hear of Resettlement Project

At the April meeting of the Narberth Co-operative Club Monday evening at the home of Marion Justice, 1104 Montgomery avenue, a speaker from the Resettlement Administration Project near Hightstown, N. J., will be present.

The people who make up this settlement, known as the Jersey Estates Settlement, were formerly residents of lower East Side, New York. At Hightstown a comfortable home was made possible for them, so located as to give each resident a plot of ground upon which garden vegetables, under the direction of a school of agriculture, are raised.

In addition the community is run on a semi-co-operative basis. An illustration of this feature will be evident next Monday evening in the trailer display of women's clothing, made in a plant owned and operated by these people.

The Executive Committee of the Narberth Club will recommend Monday evening the distribution of the earnings of the club for the past nine months.

The public is invited.

Episcopal Nips Maroon in Baseball Opener, 8-5

Episcopal Academy knocked the props from under Lower Merion's nine Tuesday afternoon at Ardmore, to take the opening baseball game of the season, 8-5. The Episcopalcans required but three days' practice to do the trick.

The Churchmen received excellent hurling from Southpaw Charlie Innis and Gene Davis (son of Narberth's baseball manager), and but for the fact that their defense fell apart in the final inning would have won by a whitewash score. The Maroon scored their five tallies in the seventh. Episcopal was guilty of six miscues, while Lower Merion made four errors.
